Church Services

Although about half of the Church of England churches in England remain closed for Public Worship, we are attempting to keep open those in the Ashbittle group. This has meant a modification to our customary pattern; we now only have one service on a Sunday morning at 9.30 a.m. which is a Holy Communion.

All are welcome to join us in public worship, but we quite understand that many people feel particularly vulnerable in these uncertain times and sensibly remain at home.

This month, the service on the 4th Sunday is at Greenham rather than Bathealton, as work is being carried out on the interior of the church (a leaking roof) and we are anticipating scaffolding being in place.

Sunday January 31st	Third Sunday before Lent
Parish Communion	9.30 a.m.	Greenham
Sunday February 7th	Second Sunday before Lent
Parish Communion	9.30 a.m.	Stawley
Sunday February 14th	Sunday before Lent
Parish Communion	9.30 a.m.	Ashbittle
Wednesday February 17th	Ash Wednesday
Holy Communion and Imposition of Ashes	6.00 p.m.	Kittisford
Sunday February 21st	Lent 1
Parish Communion	9.30 a.m.	Kittisford
Sunday February 28th	Lent 2
Parish Communion	9.30 a.m.	Greenham

If you are unable to be with us on Ash Wednesday at 6.00 p.m., please do remember us in your prayers at that time. I am sure that there will also be a number of services and resources available online or through a broadcast.

Thought for the Month

The journey of the Magi

*A cold coming we had of it,
For the journey and such a long journey;
The ways deep and the weather sharp,
The very dead of winter.*

T.S.Eliot

I have a clear remembrance of a number of similar conversations that took place in the spring of last year when the coronavirus first struck.

In each, the sentiment was expressed, "It's a good job we have all been shutdown in April, May and June. Just think how awful it would be in the winter".

The winter has returned, as winters do, but so has the virus and we find ourselves living with restrictions only a little easier than the first.

For many of us, the current situation will seem cold and dark. Like those Magi, travelling to visit the infant Christ, we will have found ourselves on a long journey, "the ways deep and the weather sharp". But, as with the Magi, we know that our journey has a destination. We are travelling towards a better and a wiser future. Each of us has something to which we can look forward.

As I write, many of our older neighbours and family members will have had their first vaccination. By the summer, it is to be hoped that all will receive the protection it offers.

In the meantime, we continue our journey. However cold and deep and sharp the present may seem, we are encouraged by our hope and our faith. We move forward.

Although Christmas 2020 was most unusual, there was much good cheer and a proper sense of celebration. We sang rain - assisted carols outside at Stawley Mill but were sustained by Penny's mulled wine. We were joined by children in Greenham churchyard for carols with the angels they had made and enjoyed Charles and Susan's refreshments. Thank you to them for their hospitality and encouragement and to all those who came along to join us for services.

Thank you also to those who decorated the churches for Christmas.

2021 sees an early Easter; April 4th. If you ever require help in falling asleep, I can explain why the date of Easter changes!

We have no idea what we will be able to do in terms of worship but we are currently planning resources for Lent. These will be available on line or on paper and are designed for those who would like to participate alone or with others, via the dreaded "Zoom".

As Lent begins on Wednesday, February the 17th, this particular step on our journey will soon be upon us. There will also be a Eucharist on Ash Wednesday to which all are welcome.

Finally, one of the characteristics of many journeys is that in travelling, we place ourselves into the hands of others. We are literally "transported", by whatever mode of travel we have chosen. Often therefore, the journey involves trusting others and allowing them to take charge. All that is required of us is not our activity but our stillness.

*Suffer us not to mock ourselves with falsehood
Teach us to care and not to care
Teach us to sit still
Even among the rocks.
Our peace is His will.*

T.S.Eliot Extract from Ash Wednesday

With my best wishes,

Martin Beaumont

The Angel Trail

Thank you to everyone who helped with our Angels of Hope project!

Greenham and Stawley Churchyards were filled with angels made by the school as well as our angels with a QR code to share God's message of Hope and the great news that Jesus has been born. Thanks to Annie Musgrove for organising the amazing angel making craft event in Greenham. They were part of an angel trail in churchyards in and around Wellington.

Thanks to everyone who knitted, packed, prayed and gave; enabling 650 Angel of Hope bags to be shared in all our nursing and residential care homes, with people getting a Christmas lunch this year and people looked after by Bluebird care. Angel of Hope Awards were also given to some of our local everyday angels and over 150 certificates were awarded to people living out the teachings of Jesus in Wellington and the surrounding villages.

Knitted or sewn multicoloured angels and flowers of all shapes and colours are now needed for our Easter trails and gifts.

If you would like to talk to someone about joining in with our Easter Mission plans; organising an Easter egg hunt or if you can help fill an angel obelisk with flowers or symbols of new life involving angels of joy in your village or community, please contact Rev. Richard Kelley,

Peggy Wotton MBE

(1932 - 2020)

Memories in the words of her brother Gilbert.

Born at the Globe Inn at Appley in June 1932, Peggy was one of six children, all of whom were born in the same bedroom and delivered by the same nurse and doctor. She had two sisters, Mary and Jean and three brothers Gilbert, John and Tim. Our Mum and Dad, Bertha and Daniel Enticott, worked so hard to give us all a good start in life.

From an early age Peggy was good at most things, she could play the piano by ear, she loved tennis, hockey and drama. She was very clever at school and could have gone on to greater things having attained her matriculation certificate (that is equivalent to University entrance), but Peggy did not want to leave her home and family so instead she took a job as a dentist's receptionist. She bought herself a Raleigh Superb bicycle which she used for the next ten years to cycle to and from work in Wellington.

Her life and work in the community started at a very young age and was probably a sign of what was to follow.

As a young teenage girl in 1945 Peggy earned the role of Homecoming Princess and amid big celebrations at Appley Croft field, was tasked with handing out envelopes with money to the returning service men to help them after the war. Peggy handed two envelopes to Mrs Pritchard of Lower Brimley Farm whose sons did not return. What a thing for a young girl to do.

It was at the local youth club where Peggy met her husband to be, Bill.

Peggy, Bill, Bill's brother Edward and Fred Scadding formed a band, 'The Appley Four Mile Band', aptly named as that was the farthest they travelled to perform. They played at harvest suppers, festive occasions for friends and family and of course at home at the pub. If you could hum the tune, Peggy could play it on the piano and in no time at all, the band would follow.

Peggy and Bill were soon married, and their son Nick was born. From then Peggy became a devoted mother as it was soon clear that Nick would not enjoy good health, but they tried not to let this get in their way. As a family they enjoyed life, sharing interests and all becoming involved in the community in different ways, while running the Post Office from their home.

Peggy's involvement broadened into the Parish, the Church and the School and it was her will to succeed that saved the school from closure.

On December 31st 2005 Peggy was awarded the MBE for services to the rural community. How proud we all were of her achievement and it was an honour for us to be able to say that our sister had an MBE.

Peggy spent the last years of her life without Bill or Nick who have both passed away, but with good neighbours, friends and family she was still very much in touch with all the things that mattered to her.

Thanks to all of you who kept in touch. Special thanks to Tim's family for the invaluable visits and of course a big thank you to John and Kathy and to Rachel and Ian for everything they did for Peggy.

God Bless you.

We hope you will dream of us as we will dream of you.

Gilbert Enticott

Peggy and Stawley School

I have known Peggy since 1974. She ran the Shop and Post Office at Greenham with her husband Bill (who delivered the groceries to the surrounding villages, serviced lawn mowers and garden machinery and drove the school bus among other things). They were the centre of the community and knew everything about everybody, including, it seemed, every child's birthday. She greatly missed Bill when he passed away. She was awarded her MBE for services to the community but always maintained that it should have been jointly awarded to Bill as well.

She attended Stawley School and never lost interest in the School and continued to support it as an active Governor until her sad demise (she was recently made an Honorary Governor).

We often recalled our campaign against school closure, going over old times and I thought you might like to hear of the first campaign.

This is a photograph of the action committee outside the Department of Education.

Manor); and Reg Herbert, from Kingsmead.

In the early eighties Somerset County Council announced without warning that the original School buildings were 'structurally unsound' and 'unreparable', much to the dismay of the people of Stawley. Thus a temporary classroom block was to be erected in the playground and the old school buildings would be sold. (Interestingly the old school buildings are now two highly desirable residences showing no sign of structural deficiencies!) It subsequently became apparent that the SCC wanted the pupils to attend a new school to be built in Milverton. Strong representations were made to SCC to no avail and an action committee was formed to fight the closure.

An approach was made to Edward du Cann for assistance and he was very helpful and arranged for a group to see Baroness Young in the Houses of Parliament.

Funds were raised by the community and a car was hired (a Ford Granada no less) to travel to London. The Baroness listened carefully to the submission and was given a written document giving the case against closure (this was enormous, almost entirely filling an A4 lever arch file and contained statistics, maps, photos, projected populations and more).

Then Sir Edward gave us lunch in the House of Commons and gave us a guided tour of the House including his offices, which had a balcony over the Thames. Afterwards he lent us his chauffeur-driven Rolls Royce to view the Christmas lights in Regent Street. What a day!

A couple of weeks after our return from London we heard that the proposed closure was refused as the SCC had not provided the required number of Notices around the Parish (a technicality but scuppered by Bertha (Peggy's mother) but that's another story).

However, jubilations were short lived as the SCC immediately launched another closure procedure – this time with the correct number of notices (but again.....that's another story).

I hope you will find this of interest and is a small reminder of Peggy's dedication to the community and in particular, the School.

The Wottons at home

For 18 years we have been neighbours to Bill, Nick and Peggy.

When we arrived we lived next to the village shop and post office, the milk delivery was down by the garages and people came up and down the steps in front of the house. We became used to Bill leaning on our garden fence looking out over Greenham, Nick fixing his car, and the general comings and goings of the Wotton household.

After Bill and then Nick's death we were more frequent visitors to each other's houses.

So many conversations over a cup of coffee or a glass of sherry about the state of the world, Peggy's gradual acceptance that new people were moving in to the area, her hope that these newcomers would know that the Stawley Primary School was still open due to her Mother's pressure to prevent closure. Her interest in the Globe, her childhood family home. She cared enormously for the wellbeing of the Parish with all her decades of memories - events, people, family - and she never lost her ability to fight for what she wanted.

In later years our grandchildren have all included Peggy in their lives. She was a feature of their stay in Somerset. Not least because she was a source of chocolates!

An abiding memory is of Peggy and her pink hoe used as a walking stick as she took her exercise "five times up and down the driveway" – always pleased if she met someone at the top to have a chat with, doing bits of gardening as she went up and down. As she became less physically able and spent most of her day sitting in her porch, she liked the gate between our houses to be open so she could see our comings and goings and any grandchildren could freely visit her.

We miss her presence. Her house seems a little lost without her.

A Social Stalwart

Peggy Wotton MBE, together with her husband Bill, served our community for many years in many ways: the Post Office and local shop, as a school governor and parish councillor, on different committees like the SCA, church member and PCC member and lots more.

Peggy

I find her, seated in her conservatory,
a smile that welcomes with luminosity:
I sit, we chat – in her eyes there's something merry:
she wonders – maybe I would partake of sherry?
Agreed, she slowly departs where once were sought,
in room next door, many stamps and sweets, then bought,
along with groceries, fruit, Post Office stock:
while sherry sipped, into memories we lock – when she, with Bill, down the path to Greenham Church would go, with faith in their Lord to lead their search for daily strength to fulfil each social task which each committee, or council, deemed to ask –
her warmth, her wisdom, or detailed meeting minutes,
all part of Peggy's care service without limits!

Post-Mistress

"How many stamps would you like to have?
They come as singles or in a book of six or twelve – would you like to look?"
Her eyes they twinkle, her lips they laugh.
"And postal order for twenty pound,
a birthday card and its envelope,
you seem quite busy, yet live in hope for all your letters each stateside bound?"
She weighs a parcel, and grits her teeth:
"It's quite expensive – in fact, a lot:
but you are smiling, and won't say not!"
and puts the box in a bag beneath the polished counter, whence she can see green restful fields, plus some cake and tea!

Thank you, Peggy!

'It is what it is'.....these words are the title of one of the most read and loved poems in modern German literature:

'Was es ist' [What it is], by Erich Fried.

It is nonsense says reason
It is what it is says love
It is calamity says calculation
It is nothing but pain says fear
It is hopeless says insight
It is what it is says love
It is ludicrous says pride
It is foolish says caution
It is impossible says experience
It is what it is says love.

Sadly – due to the current situation with Covid 19 the Meeting House is closed - We would however be delighted to hear from anyone who would like to join a Zoom Meeting for Worship.

Topsy Turvy World

*If the butterfly courted the bee,
And the owl the porcupine;
If churches were built in the sea,
And three times one was nine;
If a pony rode his master,
If buttercups ate the cows,
If the cat had the dire disaster
To be worried, sir, by the mouse;
If Mamma, sir, sold the baby
To a gypsy for half a crown;
If a gentleman, sir, was a lady
The world would be Upside – Down!*

William Brighty Rands

Late November: Settling down for winter, insect species go into diapause, a state of dormancy. But the winter gnats stay alert. On late winter afternoons, male winter gnats swarm together in sheltered nooks such as hedges and woodland edges. They aim to attract females by swaying and shimmering together. These pulsating swarms seem to fizz in the low sunlight. Even on frosty days they dance and are a vital source of food for birds.

The puss moth, however, spends the winter disguised as a knobble on a willow branch, safe in a hard cocoon made of chewed bark. In the summer the puss moth is a fluffy white-grey moth that looks like a scrap of cat's fur.

Early December: Birds also have ways of surviving the winter. Wrens, which are very territorial during the day, come together at twilight. Their bodies are so small that they gather in roosts and form tight heat preserving balls. I've got a dozen which roost under the eaves. The official record is sixty-three in a nesting box in Norfolk.

Different birds also flock together in winter. The foraging parties of insectivorous birds mix together along the hedgerows. Blue tits, great tits, coal tits get together, sometimes with long tailed tits and goldcrests. Others tag along for the protection of more eyes to spot hungry raptors.

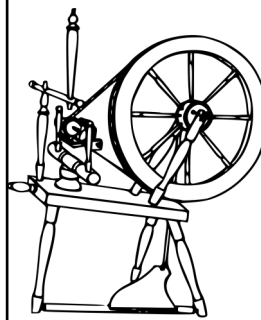

The field fares came in late December which is later than usual. In my garden snowdrops were showing in late December, and the great tits have begun to sing. There are a lot more blackbirds, which are illegal immigrants from Poland!

You should be able to spot at least ten wild flowers on the wayside. And it is only four or five weeks till frog spawn appears. Oh yes, another species that hibernates is toads. They usually find a pile of logs or a crack in a wall; if you ever see them close up their eyes have amazing gold in them. George Orwell once noted that seen close up they have a glint of the gem chrysoberyl.

What to do if you need urgent police help through the 999 service, but can't speak

If you're in an emergency situation and need police help, but can't speak, Make Yourself Heard and let the 999 operator know your call is genuine.

WHEN YOU CALL 999

All 999 calls are directed to call centres and will be answered by BT operators. They will ask which service you need. If no service is requested but anything suspicious is heard throughout the process, BT operators will connect you to a police call handler.

IF YOU CALL 999 FROM A MOBILE

It is always best to speak to the operator if you can, even by whispering. You may also be asked to cough or tap the keys on your phone in response to questions.

If making a sound would put you or someone else in danger and the BT operator cannot decide whether an emergency service is needed, your call will be transferred to the Silent Solution system.

The Silent Solution is a police system used to filter out large numbers of accidental or hoax 999 calls. It also exists to help people who are unable to speak, but who genuinely need police assistance. You will hear an automated police message, which lasts for 20 seconds and begins with 'you are through to the police'. It will ask you to press 55 to be put through to police call management. The BT operator will remain on the line and listen. If you press 55, they will be notified and transfer the call to the police. If you don't press 55, the call will be terminated. Pressing 55 does not allow police to track your location.

WHAT THEN?

When transferred to your local police force, the police call handler will attempt to communicate with you by asking simple yes or no questions. If you are not able to speak, listen carefully to the questions and instructions from the call handler so they can assess your call and arrange help if needed.

IF YOU CALL 999 FROM A LANDLINE

Because it's less likely that 999 calls are made by accident from landlines, the Silent Solution system is not used.

If, when an emergency call on a landline is received:

- there is no request for an emergency
 - the caller does not answer questions
 - only background noise can be heard and BT operators cannot decide whether an emergency service is needed,
- then you will be connected to a police call handler as doubt exists.

If you replace the handset, the landline may remain connected for 45 seconds in case you pick it up again.

If you pick up again during this 45 seconds and the BT operator is concerned for your safety, the call will be connected to police.

When 999 calls are made from landlines, information about where you're calling from should be automatically available to the call handlers to help provide a response.

“I Don’t Read Books”

“Then what the Hell are you doing at university?” I blurted out in ill-disguised rage at such a profoundly shocking admission. In the absence of responses to the usual conversational overtures, I had asked an outwardly normal millennial the banal, “What are you reading that you don’t have to?” “We do everything on line.” “Whole books?” “No, extracts of research papers, mostly.” Is there no pity sitting in the clouds?

‘Rage’ because I have recently lost the ability to read fluently. A senile mental dullness prevents me from rejoicing in a writer’s selection of words that give rhythm to an elegant sentence while it brought fresh ideas to my attention. Nor can I still hold in my consciousness the way a sequence of such sentences creates a paragraph that lets in the light of new understanding.

Most of the eternal babble of spoken words dissipate into the crowded air, but some stick in minds already sodden with their predecessors. All but a few combinations of those that stick are eventually forgotten, denied, distorted, recycled as vapid gossip or mis-remembered cliché inappropriately applied. Written words are different: they form a record that cannot be changed by fickle memory – there is a permanence about them. But they must be read.

Reading separates us humans from the rest of creation. As I described in this column in July last year, it is the only activity I know which uses all three parts of the brain. We learn to read most naturally on parents’ laps with comforting arms around us, and a finger tracing each word as it is spoken. Patterns of nerve impulses generated by the changing images of whole words on our retinas travel along optic nerves to the midbrain. At the same time, other patterns of impulses are generated deep in the ears and passed up auditory nerves to the hindbrain. There is too little processing capacity in the hind- and midbrains for them to integrate such complex sensory inputs but there is more than enough for these tasks in the forebrain, which is where the sight of a written word is related to its spoken sound. This is how reading occupies the whole brain and, of course, one’s full attention. There are few more heart-warming sights in life as a child deep in a chair and lost in a book.

A different way of teaching a child to read concentrates on the sounds of letters: C – A – T , and has achieved some formality in a system called Phonics. I am deeply suspicious of any set of rules that imposes rigidity on a plastic dimension, rather than seeking to describe it. Except by context, how does a learner cope with “A rough-coated, dough-faced, thoughtful ploughman strode through the streets of Scarborough; after falling into a slough, he coughed and hiccupped”? I fear that Phonics not only fails to teach children to read but actually teaches them not to. I would be glad to hear of contrary opinions.

Reading is a door not only to imagined worlds, but also to a universe of other people’s perception of reality. Even so, what people actually say has so many facets of motivation that it is difficult to classify them. One way of bringing order is to try to relate words to an apparent evolutionary value. For example, when monkeys make alarm calls, they use different words for “snake”, “eagle” and “leopard”. So also, it is reasonable to assume, did our common ancestors. This sort of language is distinct from socially soothing grunts of appreciation when being groomed, as Robin Dunbar suggests.

The grunts and purrs are enormously important in building alliances which ultimately lead to more of that particular individual’s offspring in the next generation. It doesn’t really matter what such sounds mean so long as they elicit a favourable emotion in the hearer. On the other hand, failing to understand the difference between ‘eagle’ and ‘leopard’ can be fatal. The two different uses of words is so evolutionarily recent that they have not yet been fully integrated into language. This means that one is left wondering whether a particular word has an exact meaning, or is it just there to make one feel stroked.

Skilled writers can balance the two styles so that their readers’ overall impression is that the writer, or the character being described, is such a nice person that they could not really mean what they are actually saying. Some politicians have turned speaking in this way into a fine art, but then part of their job is to manipulate public opinion, and they know that written speeches seldom stir emotions as much as spontaneously delivered ones.

Writing and reading seem to have arisen in response to the need for records that are more reliable than memory. Spoken words generally have no such function, so hyperbole is acceptable because the listener is expected to neither take their meaning literally nor remember them. This opens the door to subversion, and devaluing a society’s language is a surer way of undermining its core values than tampering with its currency.

The antidote is, of course, to read books, and to learn to discriminate between good writing and bad. How does one tell if a book is likely to be worth the investment of money and time? Reviews help, but I find a fairly effective, even if bizarre, way is to read page 69, or the nearest full page to it, and ask yourself whether you want to turn it.

Village Emergency Telephone System (VETS)

As a temporary measure in the light of the current situation, the Village Emergency Telephone System (VETS) has been converted to a helpline. If, for any reason, you require local assistance, you can ring the appropriate number for your area shown below and, if someone is available, a local volunteer will respond.

There are ten local volunteers on each number and the first one who is available will respond to your call. If you are self-isolating and alone in your home, or whatever the circumstances, volunteers are out there to help you so please make use of this helpline. You may need some supplies, your medication or perhaps you have a concern or anxiety which you just need to talk through with someone... the community is here to help you.

The numbers are:

ASHBRITTLE & STAWLEY: 01823 244104

BATHEALTON: 01984 322919

KITTISFORD, TRACEBRIDGE & APLEY: 01823 245101

The VETS numbers remain available as emergency lines should you need help to access a Defibrillator. Remember, in the event of a possible cardiac arrest in your household

ALWAYS DIAL 999 FIRST IN AN EMERGENCY AND, IF A CHANCE ARISES THEN DIAL THE VETS NUMBER, SPECIFYING THAT YOU NEED A DEFIBRILLATOR RATHER THAN GENERAL HELP

Defibrillators

Would you know what to do if someone in your household collapsed, had a heart attack and needed help? Within this community, we have four DEFIBRILLATORS which are available to anyone and they are easy to use by anyone. Quick access to a defibrillator really can save a life.

Where are they?

What 3 Words - the new way emergency services are finding your location

What 3 Words (W3W) is a new and simple way to identify a location, anywhere in the world. Unlike post codes, which at best cover a group of houses, and in a remote location, such as in a field, are non-specific, the W3W system has divided the entire world up into 3m x 3m squares.

Wherever you are, if you know your W3W address, anyone can find you. Whilst you may ask, "so does GPS (latitude and longitude)" this is correct. But trying to find your latitude and longitude, or should you be relaying this in 'eastings' and 'northings', just causes confusion for most people, and unless you know how to look for it on a smartphone, it is not easy to find in an emergency.

If you do not have a smartphone, even more of an issue! W3W is being adopted by most international agencies, and here in the UK this means Fire, Police and Ambulance, Coast Guard, Mountain Rescue, the AA, Air Ambulance, and others. In a 999 call, for example, the operator may ask you for your W3W address. If you do not have this, or do not know what they are talking about, then they will send you a text message. Click on this and it will tell you the W3W location of where you are calling from, even if you are in the middle of a field, or lake, or up a mountain.

Minutes of RCI Meeting Wednesday 13th January 2021

held online by Zoom,
in the light of the Covid-19 Pandemic.

(The continuity of the meeting was sometimes disrupted by internet problems, but the formalities of the meeting were carried out effectively)

Welcome: The Chairman welcomed members who had been able to join the online meeting.

Present: Michael Parkinson (Mike, Chairman), Pauline Wood (PW), Judy Webb (JW), Laura Burrows (LB), John Hannon (JH), Cilla Newsom (CN), Ann-Marie Paterson (AMP).

Apologies : Martin Perry, Jane Embleton.

Minutes of the last meeting: They were agreed and signed.

Accounts: The Treasurer submitted the summary of the RCI's Annual Accounts for the year ending 31st August 2020 showing balances as follows:

RCI	£1631.30
Active Living	£957.72
Youth Club	£522.95	Total: £3111.97

These accounts have been audited by Derek Sowden, to whom thanks should be passed.

Acceptance of the RCI 2019/2020 accounts was proposed by JW, Seconded by Mike, Chairman and carried unanimously.

As at 13th January 2021, the Treasurer's Report showed a total credit balance of £2736.63, comprising balances as follows:

RCI	£1255.96
Active Living	£957.72
Youth Club	£522.95

The RCI balance included £120 raised from donations at the Shop for handicrafts done over the Christmas period by PW and Mike, who were both thanked.

The Treasurer also produced a report showing the Community Heartbeat Trust (CHT) account for DeFibs and VETS. This showed a credit balance of £587.80; the initial Lottery Grant in February 2019, provided sufficient funding for three years support for DeFibs and VETS. JW undertook to research further funding which will be required for ongoing support from next year.

Fundraising efforts had been considerably curtailed by the pandemic and various ideas to raise money were discussed. LB mentioned that local parents were happy to raise money through the sale of books, clothing etc. She undertook to look into this and to speak to the Perrys about the possibility of using the shop to coordinate this.

Mike drew attention to the use of Amazon Smile as a simple way for anyone making Amazon purchases, to raise funds. By opting in to Amazon Smile on every Amazon purchase, and then registering Stawley RCI as a nominated charity, 0.5% of every purchase would be credited to the RCI.

PW also reported that action was in hand to change bank details and signatories on the account.

Mike, thanked the Treasurer for her work in maintaining the accounts and JW for DeFibs and VETS work.

VETS: JW reported that the VETS line would continue as a general Helpline indefinitely whilst lockdowns were in place. Telephone tests had continued and monitoring by CHT reported their success. JW expressed gratitude to all volunteers, including those who regularly checked and maintained the DeFibs.

She also mentioned the ongoing promotion of ///what3words for accurate location finding. From 1st January 2021, public services were all required to make use of it and to assist users by sending the App where appropriate. JW would continue to use the Parish News to promote its use and Mike was actively identifying ///what3words for households within our community.

Reports: Lunch Club - not currently functioning because of the pandemic.

Walking Group - also not currently functioning.

Oil Group continued to work well.

Walks Project - limited by the pandemic.

Arts Group – unable to meet.

AOB: Mike raised the issue of the possible purchase of a Notice Board, similar to the one at Greenham, to be placed on the school gates by the shop. It would not need to be free standing and his research indicated that the cost would be c.£778. He would consult the School about it.

The next meeting is to take place on Wednesday 14th April following the RCI Annual General Meeting. Hopefully it could take place at Chackeridge Cottage but would be subject to review depending on circumstances.

The meeting closed and the Chairman thanked those who had participated.

Stawley Parish Council

Edited Minutes of the meeting held on line, 19th January 2021

Full minutes will be available in The Globe Postbox, the Shop and on line at www.stash.org.uk

Parish Councillors present: Chairman, Paul Musgrove (PM), Simon Buttars (SB), Pat Sweet (PS), Matt Vellacott (MV), Clive Wall (CW) .

Others present:- James Hunt (JH) (County Councillor), Five parishioners.

Matters Arising not Covered Elsewhere

The District Council had replied to a request for confirmation of the Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) and this had been passed to Councillors.

The Stawley Welcome Home Fete 1946 film has been copied on to a number of DVDs for Parishioners and one has been kept by the Council.

Peggy Wotton. The Council expressed its sorrow to hear of Mrs Peggy Wotton's passing at the end of December 2020. She had been a stalwart member of the community whilst wearing many hats and in this case had served as Clerk to the Parish Council for a quarter of a century. CW floated the idea of having a permanent memorial for Peggy and her late husband Bill to remember their contribution to society. PM will assess the condition of the present seat and cherry tree by Greenham Bridge and discuss the idea with other interested parties.

Finance • Precept for 2021/22. It was agreed by the Meeting that the Precept should be maintained at a level such that the payments by households in the Parish will remain the same as in 2020/21. This will set the Precept at £2,927.

- Payments had been made as agreed at the meeting on 2nd November 2020 as follows:

£1285 to the Pavilion for assistance in re-surfacing the car park.

Grants had been passed on to churches within the Parish for maintenance of their churchyards as follows: £66.75 for Greenham (paid to Ashbrittle PCC); £200.25 for Stawley; £178.00 for Kittisford £600 grant to the Pavilion for the upkeep of the playing field.

£195.84 was paid in respect of costs incurred in setting up the new website.

£50 had been received from Ashbrittle PC for a part share of the website costs.

- Payment to keep stawleypc@yahoo.co.uk.

Yahoo now charge to have e-mails forwarded to another address. The Meeting agreed that the parish would pay to continue to have the service.

The current bank balance is £10,062.10

Planning

- 35/20/0010 - Change of use of land to site 1

converted shipping container to be used as holiday let accommodation on land off Cockland Hill, Stawley. The PC agreed to make no comment.

- 35/20/0011 - Conversion of agricultural barn into 1 dwelling with erection of single storey extensions at South Barn, Elworthy Farm, Greenham, Wellington. The Parish Council agreed to make no comment.

- 35/20/0013CQ - Prior approval for proposed change of use from agricultural building to 2 dwelling houses (Class C3) and associated building operations at Wagtail Farm, Bullockfield Hill, Stawley. The PC had some reservations on this application. CW agreed to draft a response.

- 35/21/0001 - Erection of a free range poultry building at Appley Orchard Farm, Bishops Hill, Stawley. There was considerable discussion on this application because of various concerns about the present pollution issues on the site and the impact on nearby residents. The Council agreed to object to the application. CW agreed to draft a response.

Reports from Members

Roads – SB had contacted Somerset Highways about the damage to salt bins. It was agreed that five new bins would be procured, at a total cost of £306.75 plus VAT.

Footpaths – There are some stiles and gates in the Parish that need attention. PM agreed to review all the paths over the next few weeks and determine what work is needed and who is responsible for carrying it out.

Any Other Business

JH briefed the Meeting on the effect Covid had had on Somerset County Council and the possible move to a unitary authority within Somerset..

Next meeting: Date to be determined.

Paul Musgrove, Clerk

Peggy Wotton

Peggy served as Clerk to Stawley Parish Council for twenty five years, until her retirement in 2012. For most of those years she served alongside her husband, Bill, who was Chairman and is commemorated by a flowering cherry tree at Greenham Bridge. She was an extremely conscientious clerk and an amazing source of valuable local information.

Not only did her 'reign' largely precede the use of electronic communication within local government circles, but she also declined to use a typewriter or photocopier. As a result, all council minutes and correspondence were beautifully handwritten (as were copies!) without any mistakes. Many of her carefully crafted documents now reside in the Somerset Heritage Centre for others to enjoy.

A Farming Diary

Weather issues

The weather plays a big part in all people's lives, but this is especially true in farming. The weather conditions on a day-to-day basis and through the seasons have a big influence on what work you need to do every day. Some examples of the things the weather affects include: when you can turn cattle out in the spring; when to mow grass for hay, (as you need at least five warm dry days for the grass to dry out, which is quite rare in this part of West Somerset); and the profit you make at the end of the year. As someone I heard saying once about farming, there are easier ways to lose money.

A good spring and summer will make the greatest difference between a good and bad year. Warm dry spells of weather with occasional rain, are the ideal conditions for cattle to grow fast and cows to milk well. These conditions also allow crops to have good yields and be harvested in dry conditions. Grass for example is at its most nutritious around mid-May. To make silage two dry days is enough, one to mow the grass and let it dry and one to chop it and to haul it back to the clamp. If you get a lot of rain on mown grass it adversely affects the quality of the silage which means the cows will not milk as well the next winter. So, before you decide to mow, the forecast is scanned several times a day to see if the weather is going to be dry. With apps on mobiles and forecasts every half hour on rolling news stations it's a lot easier to get it right than years ago, when all you had was a pine cone, some seaweed and some old sayings like 'red sky at night, shepherds' delight'.

If you do get a nice hot, dry summer like in 2018, farmers will always compare it to 1976 which is the benchmark for all good summers before and since. I do just about remember that summer, watching old film and talking to slightly older farmers it was indeed very hot and dry, when all the grass fields turned brown and crops struggled through lack of rain. The reservoirs nearly ran dry, with standpipes in the towns.

The government then, like today tried to help out with slogans like 'share a bath' to save water. They appointed a minister of drought at the end of the summer, but only a week or so later the heavens opened and then it didn't stop raining for several months.

If 1976 is the benchmark for hot summers, then benchmarks for cold snowy winters are 1947 and 1963. We have had some pretty bad ones since then, like 1979, 1982 and 1987, but nothing like those two, I have been told. Really cold weather causes a lot of problems on a farm. It freezes water pipes and troughs in cattle sheds so you have to spend a long time thawing them out with kettles of hot water. Blow torches have been known to be used, though I wouldn't recommend it. Milking parlours can also freeze solid overnight, so a heater will have to be left on through the night, but in really severe cold it can still freeze up. Snow can also cause a lot of problems to farmers, collecting the milk even with a sprinkling of snow on the roads can be difficult for the milk tankers, especially up steep narrow lanes. If the snow has drifted, they can't even get to the farms.

Back in the day we would have to take our milk to a collection point on a main road that had been cleared of snow. This was usually Wivey or, when there was a milk factory in Wellington, straight into there, which was I think down the bottom of Mantle Street. This meant getting out the emergency milk tank and putting it onto a trailer, then hitching it up to the tractor, then a quick rinse and scrub out with water before filling the tank with the milk. Taking a heavy load of milk up and down narrow country lanes covered with snow and ice with a small, two-wheel drive tractor wasn't for the faint hearted. Once you got there it was good to meet up with other farmers to find out how they were getting on with the bad weather. All milk now has to be collected by tankers and no hauling by farmers is allowed, which has been the case for twenty years or more. Over the last few years snow has been quite rare anyway, so most dairy farmers now have insurance for non-collection of their milk, which did happen during the beast from the east three years ago. This was the first time in about twenty-two years that the milk lorry could not make it in to pick up the milk. If global warming continues we may not see again the terrible winters with weeks and weeks of freezing cold and snow, with twelve foot drifts like in 1947 and 1963, which a lot of people say were the worst two Winters since Bernie and Mike.

Derek Greenway

We were a bit confused about this last reference, so we asked Derek about it; he sent the following explanation. Eds

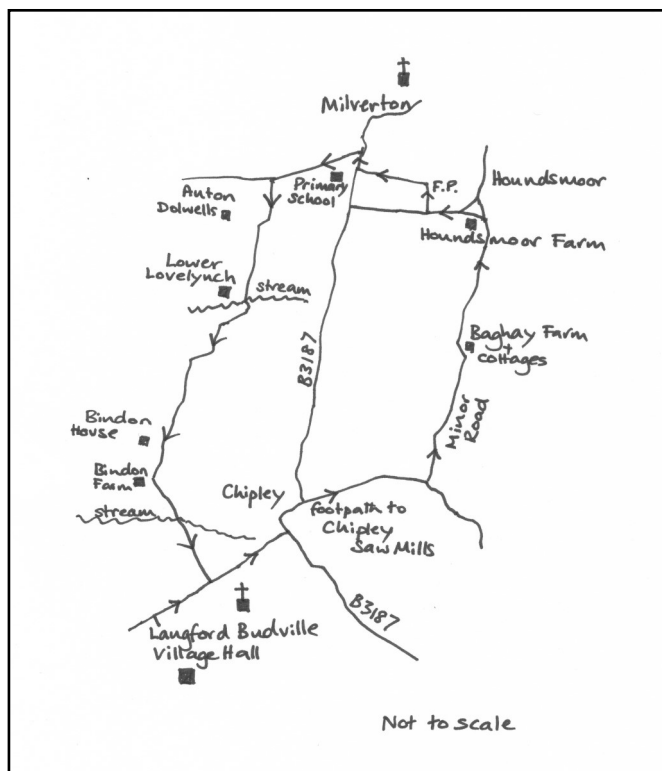

There were two brothers that were comedians back in the 70s and 80s called Bernie and Mike Winters that were on TV, but had a reputation for being a bit cheesy and not being very good. So it's the link of two bad Winters.

New (to me) circular walk – Langford Budville to Milverton

Inspired by the excellent Parish walks of Stawley and Ashbrittle produced by the Rural Community Initiative, I thought it would be fun to find some new (to me) circular walks in our locality. This circular walk proved to be fairly easy, mostly on well signposted footpaths, with short road sections, not too hilly, and perfect for the dogs. It was fairly muddy at this time of year, so I was glad I was wearing wellies. It was interesting to see different old houses and farms and new views of the area. I won't pretend to write down every stile and turn in the footpath, but hopefully inspire you to get the map out and follow the route.

Start: park at Langford Budville village hall and turn right towards Langford Budville. After going past Langford Court continue straight on through the village and along the footpath across the fields towards Chipley. Turn left when you reach the B3187 and once across the stream, turn right and head to Chipley saw mills. After the saw mills you will reach the minor road, turn left and head towards Houndsmoor. After just over a mile you will reach Houndsmoor Farm on the left, turn left there, leaving a triangle of land to your right. After going up this lane for about 300 yards, there is a footpath sign on the right, you can take this to head to Milverton. You will see the church tower so it's hard to get lost. Follow your instinct and this footpath will bring you out onto the B3187 down some steep steps (be careful not let the dogs run out onto this road). You are now opposite Milverton primary school. Turn right, then left to go up the steep hill leaving the primary school on your left-hand side.

Towards the top of the hill, after passing all the housing, take the lane on your left towards Lower Lovelynych. This turns into a footpath and there is a small footpath diversion to watch out for at Lower Lovelynych. It's well signposted but does bring you through a muddy gate. Keep following the footpath signs towards Bindon Farm and from there across fields and a small stream back to Langford Budville. At one point you will see Langford Budville church tower, which will be reassuring and something to aim for. If it's all worked to plan you will end up in Langford Budville turning right on the lane and retracing your steps past Langford Court back to the village hall.

Distance: about 5.5 miles if you don't get lost. Have fun and if you need a break, there are always snacks at Milverton Stores.

Moves towards a unitary council

We live in an area with council services split across two principal tiers. The main services from Somerset West and Taunton Council (SWT) include waste collections, housing and planning. The main services from Somerset County Council include social care, transport and public health.

Last summer, Somerset County Council called for a new single tier local authority to be established across all of the county. In October, this was followed by the Government inviting proposals for unitary councils in Somerset, as well as Cumbria and North Yorkshire.

In December, two different business cases for Somerset were submitted. The County Council prepared a case for One Somerset, proposing one council to cover all 250,000 households across the county. The four District Councils all agreed a case for a Stronger Somerset, proposing two unitary councils covering the east and west of the county. For us, Western Somerset would merge the SWT and Sedgemoor districts, including Bridgwater, Minehead, Taunton and the rural areas around the major towns.

Somerset Waste Partnership already jointly delivers council waste services across the county. Stronger Somerset would extend collaboration across both East and West unitaries in more service areas, including children's services and integrated social care. One Somerset would see one council providing all local authority services across the whole of the current county area, including Frome, Glastonbury and Yeovil.

Both business cases propose closer working with the many local parish and town councils through community networks and opportunities to devolve some assets and services.

The decision on whether to create one or two unitary councils in Somerset now rests with the Government. If they wish to proceed, official local consultation is expected around March time and a decision announced in July. Shadow Authorities would then be established, with current councillors, in April 2022 and the new council/s would be set-up, with the first elections, in 2023.

For Somerset West and Taunton, the timing of the unitary debate is very unfortunate or, some may say, poorly judged. The new district council is only just emerging from the joining together of Taunton Deane and West Somerset Councils in 2019. If the unitary change now goes ahead, there will be further disruption and transformation costs that will inevitably arise, again diverting some attention away from local service provision and planning.

PARISH NEWS DETAILS

The Editors and the next issue deadline date are on the back cover. Please send items for publication to the Editors in good time to ensure publication. There is only a short time between the deadline and the printing of the Parish News and late items may not be included. We are pleased to receive items in any form (typed, in long hand, on disk or by e-mail). Naturally, we prefer items by e-mail ashparishnews@gmail.com when they should be in Microsoft 'Word' format, as this saves a great deal of typing!

Advertising Our rates are £1.40 per month for a small box, £3.00 for a quarter page, £6.00 for a half page and £12.00 for a whole page. Advertising for community events, charity and church fundraising events in our area are normally carried free of charge. Occasional one-off adverts from residents in our area seeking to sell or buy an article or seeking to acquire or offer a service are also carried free of charge. In all cases the style, layout and size allocated to an advert is at the discretion of the Editors.
